BOYS TO HELP IN HEALTH SURVEY

IT IS TO BE STARTED NEXT WEEK

THE CITY WATER SAFE

Dr. Fryer Says it is the One Supply on Which One May Absolutely Rely

The health survey for Maryville will be started next week with the assistance of a number of boys of town, who were formerly members of the Maryville boy scout organization and who have had some experience in house to house canvass work, according to Dr. Claude P. Fryer, head of the Nodaway County Health Department. The plan is to get a list of all the houses in Maryville where students in the State Teachers College are kept. From this list the boys know what houses to visit. Only the houses where students are kept are to be canvassed, as the survey is especially for the purpose of making conditions safe for the students.

Some interest in the survey is already being manifested by the people of Maryville. The department has received several requests in the past few days that tests be made of the water of wells from which families are getting their supply.

When the boys go to a home they will ask that a little blank regarding the water and sanitary conditions about the place be filled out. If the householder cares to have it done the department will take a sample of water of any well on the premises and have it tested, but if no such request is made the water will not be tested, unless some one about the place becomes ill with typhoid fever.

Dr. Fryer says that if one would be sure that he is using water that is absolutely safe he should use the water from the city mains. This has been tested and will be tested from time to time and there is no chance of its being polluted without the authorities knowing it. It is put through a treatment at the plant that kills all injurious bacteria. He says one cannot be sure that any well in town is safe, unless he has had it tested and knows it to be all right. In a place where the population is as thick as it is in Maryville any well is likely to become polluted. He points out that fourteen cases of typhoid fever were traced in Maryvile last summer to one well. This well has since been abandoned and filled up.

"Personally," says Dr. Fryer, "I never take a drink of water from any well. I drink the water from the city mains for I know that it is all right. When I am out of town I do not drink."

The water, ice and milk are the three distinct sources from which the pollution from typhoid fever is likely to come, according to Dr. Fryer. When a case of typhoid fever comes it is to these three sources that he looks. He says that it is possible for infection to come from milk which is all right in itself but which becomes infected from the fact that the utensils are washed in water that is infected.

BARBER LAND WILL BE SOLD HERE JUNE 17

Bankruptcy Court Dissolves Temporary Writ of Injunction—W. C. Pierce Named as Trustee.

At the first meeting of creditors of John W. Barber of near Skidmore in St. Joseph yesterday, W. C. Pierce of Maryville was appointed trustee in bankruptcy. Neither Mr. Pierce nor the Farmers Trust Company are a creditor but the creditors were wanting a trustee familiar with land values.

John S. Boyer, referee in bankruptcy, dissolved the temporary writ of injunction to hold up the sale of the Barber tract of land which had been issued by him on May 20. The land had been advertised for sale on May 20, but the sale was held up owing to the temporary writ.

Since the injunction has been dissolved, the Barber tract of land comprising 2,080 acres of land near Skidmore will be sold on Saturday, June 17, to satisfy a second mortgage of $123,054.66 with about $10,000 interest subject to a first mortgage of about $175,000 with interest. It is said the first and second mortgages and interest amount to about $324,000 or over $150 an acre.

TO HAVE SPECIAL POLICE OFFICER IN COLLEGE PARK

Well Has Been Bored for the Use of the Occupants of the Summer Cottages.

W. A. Blagg, president of the board of regents at the State Teachers College, announced this morning that in the near future the College Park would be patroled by a special policeman. This will be for the protection of the tenants of the summer cottages and also to keep some of the "mashers" from abusing park privileges.

The authorities at the State Teachers College have had a well bored in the College Park for the use of the tenants of the twelve summer cottages, owned by the college and rented out to students and teachers. This well will furnish clear cool water at all times and it will make it possible for the tenants to have other water than that of the One Hundred and Two River.

K.P.'S HONOR TWO MARYVILLE BOYS

MAPEL PRESIDENT AND BARRY SECRETARY OF DISTRICT

NEXT MEETING HERE

Fifteen Lodges Were Represented at St. Joseph Yesterday—Local Report Good

Maryville was distinctly honored at the semi-annual meeting of the First Pythian district, Knights of Pythias, which was held in St. Joseph yesterday. It was decided to hold the next convention of the lodges of this district in Maryville. Also two members of the local lodge were elected to offices in the district. William Mapel was made president and Raymond Barry was elected to the office of Secretary. The meeting in Maryville will be held sometime in October.

The other officers as elected were Eric Holmes, vice-president, and George McGee, treasurer. Mr. Holmes is from the Watson lodge and Mr. McGee, who has been treasurer for the past year is from St. Joseph.

The convention yesterday in St. Joseph was a decided success. The four highest of the national officers of the Knights of Pythias were present and all made short talks. These officers were A. L. Reeves of Jefferson City, grand chancellor; Edwin Ettinger of St. Louis, grand keeper of records and seal; W. F. Drummond of Independence, deputy grand chancellor and W. E. Reese of St. Joseph, grand vice chancellor. Fred D. Clark who was president of the association for the past year, was also present. He is special deputy grand chancellor.

About fifteen lodges were represented at the meeting. Four of the members of the Tancred Lodge, No. 84, of Maryville were at the meeting. They were William Mapel, Raymond Barry, Harold O'Banion, and Ora McPherron.

The business of the convention was completed yesterday afternoon and last night the first degree of the Knights of Pythias was conferred on a class by the State Instituting team.

When the reports of the different lodges were read it was found that the report of the Maryville lodge was as good if not better than that of any other lodge present. Many compliments were passed and the results of the election of officers and the place decided on for the next convention show how good the impression of the local chapter was.

At the regular meeting of the local lodge Monday night, the delegates report will be read and plans will be laid toward the holding of the convention.

CLOSING 8TH YEAR OF BUSINESS HERE

HARVEY L. HAINES OPENED STORE JUNE 6, 1914

HAS GROWING BUSINESS

Stock Now Ten Times the Original—Is an Advertiser—Annual Sale Starts Today

On a certain evening in March, 1914 a man sat in the lobby of the Baltimore Hotel in Kansas City. He had just closed business relations in a Kansas town and was looking for a good location in which to start a dry goods store. He had been a Missouri boy, born and reared at Bigelow, and he wished to make his future home and establish his future business in his native state. A traveling salesman of his acquaintance dropped in, sat down beside him and the two became engaged in conversation. The traveling salesman told the man of Maryville and the opportunities he believed existed here.

The business man was none other than Harvey L. Haines, owner of the Harvey L. Haines store. Mr. Haines was interested in what his friend told him and decided to come the following day to Maryville to look the ground over. He was convinced that it was just the place he wanted to be and accordingly rented a part of the storeroom that his business now occupies. Nearly three months later he had a small stock of goods in the building and opened for business June 6, 1914, with four clerks, besides himself. He believed in advertising and delivering the goods as he advertised them and he believed in paying the wholesalers cash for their goods and selling them to the consumer the same way. The business grew. Mr. Haines increased his stock until it now is ten times what it was originally. The force of clerks became inadequate and he hired more. The storeroom became too small and an addition was built on the rear. Still more room was needed and balconies were built on either side of the room. Today fourteen clerks are hired regularly and Mr. Haines will open within two weeks a new department on the second floor of the building to which a wide easy stairway will lead and which will be a real modern up to date ready to wear department. It will be equipped with the best fixtures that money can buy. The floors will be covered with the most expensive rugs and all the goods will be under glass. There will also be a Ladies' rest room.

Mr. Haines has been working at the dry goods business since he was a small boy but says that he does not understand the business yet. He says that there is so much to know about the business that it is practically impossible for one to really feel that he knows much about it. Mr. Haines has been in the business for himself since 1900.

When asked to what it was that he attributed his success in business Mr. Haines said:

"I attribute such success as I have had to the fact that I have advertised and that I produced the goods as I advertised them. I started in a small way and enlarged my business as there was call for it. I paid cash for my goods and I sold them for cash. I clear my books each week so that when the store opens on Monday I do not owe a dollar to any one in the world. I have kept my business clear from any hold of bankers or wholesalers. When I look in the glass all the directors of my business are in session for I own every dollar of the concern myself."

It has been Mr. Haines' custom to hold each year an anniversary sale to commemorate the opening of his business in Maryville. The eighth annual sale was started this morning at 9 o'clock with twenty-four clerks behind the counters and will continue throughout next week. It bids fair to be one of the biggest and best that Mr. Haines has ever held.

TWENTY-FOUR CHILDREN AT ARKOE CLINIC YESTERDAY

Was the Largest That the Department Has Ever Held—Parents Came in With Questions

Members of the County Health Department held yesterday at Arkoe a clinic at which twenty-four children were present. Seventeen of the number were school children and seven babies. This is the largest clinic that has ever been held by the department.

Members of the department said this morning that the interest in the clinic in Arkoe was especially good. Many of the parents of the children came in with them to talk over various things pertaining to the health of their children and sanitation of their homes.

The department held this morning at the headquarters the weekly Maryville clinic.

ENROLLMENT IS AROUND 900 MARK

792 LISTED AT OFFICE OF W. A. RICKENBRODE

100 IN CONSERVATORY

School Shows Remarkable Growth in Past Ten Years—is Four Times Larger

The enrollment at the State Teachers College is today in the neighborhood of 900. Seven hundred and ninety-two are enrolled at the office of W. A. Rickenbrode and in addition to this it is said that the Conservatory of Music has approximately 100 students, the official enrollment of which has not as yet been turned in. Of the 792, thirty-eight are ex-service men taking vocational training and one is a student who has taken her B. S. in Education. This student is Mrs. A. J. Cauffield.

The number of students registered is a record. The largest summer enrollment in the history of the school was in the summer of 1916 when there was an enrollment of 703.

The enrollment for the summers since 1910 follows:

1910—241
1911—369
1912—474
1913—515
1914—520
1915—540
1916—703
1917—624
1918—540
1919—478
1920—479
1921—642
1921—642

Since 1910 the enrollment has nearly quadrupled. It has grown from 241 to more than nine hundred. The two years when the enrollment showed its least change were in 1919 and 1920. In 1919 the number of students was 478 and in 1920 the number had increased one person.

Students are expected to arrive for this term as late as the latter part of next week.

MRS. ALLEN HINCKLEY TO TEACH VOICE HERE

Has This Work at the Conservatory of Music of College—a Leading Singer of Kansas City

Mrs. Allen Hinckley one of the prominent Kansas City musicians, will have charge of the voice department of the Conservatory of music of the State Teachers College during the summer months. Mrs. Hinckley is expected to arrive in Maryville tonight.

Mrs. Hinckley is the wife of Allen Hinckley of the Kansas City Conservatory of Music. She is one of the leading church singers of that city. Mrs. Hinckley was one of the judges at the musical contests held at the State Teachers College the fore part of May.

The Conservatory has many students enrolled during the summer months. It has four piano teachers, T. H. Annett, Miss Geneva Wilfley, Miss Ruth Houchens and Miss Alice Welling.

Students or others interested in taking voice lessons from Mrs. Hinckley can make arrangements by seeing Charles R. Gardner, head of the Conservatory of Music, at 3 o'clock in the afternoons or by seeing Mrs. Hinckley at the studio.

WOODARD MURDER CASE WENT TO THE JURY AT 4:20 THIS AFTERNOON

M'CAFFREY FINISHED THE CLOSING ARGUMENT AT THAT TIME

WHAT WILL VERDICT BE?

Expressions Heard Ranged from Conviction of 10 Years to Acquittal —Some Say Hung Jury

At 4:20 this afternoon, the Woodard murder case went to the jury after Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey for the state had made the closing argument. Mr. McCaffrey talked about one hour and twenty minutes.

What will be the verdict of the jury? There were some expressions that the jury may bring in a verdict of ten years, the least punishment, if the woman is convicted. Many others say the jury will acquit Mrs. Woodard. There are some who expressed the belief the jury will be unable to agree.

After the instructions were read to the jury by Judge Dawson yesterday afternoon, Attorney W. A. Blagg for the state made the opening argument. The instructions included first degree murder or murder in the second degree, the least sentence to be ten years or acquittal.

Mr. Blagg begun his talk to the jury at 4:20 o'clock and continued until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon when court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Blagg had not concluded his talk when the court adjourned last evening and was the first speaker this morning. He closed his argument at 9:55 this morning after talking about three hours and five minutes.

Mr. Blagg pointed out how the court and the officials worked under oath, reviewed the qualifications for a juryman. Later he reviewed the instructions which the court gave the jury. He especially emphasized the part which referred to the probability or the improbability of the witnesses statements when he reviewed parts of the testimony which has been given in the trial.

In referring to the night of the shooting when Mrs. Woodard was home, he said, that in his mind the woman then formed a deliberate purpose of taking the life of Mr. Woodard when he came home that night. He attacked the testimony of Maxine Woodard, the little daughter.

T. A. Cummins for the defense began his plea to the jury at 10:05. He mentioned the responsibility he felt as attorney for the defense and said he thought when all of the evidence had been presented by them, then the burden rested upon the shoulders of the jury.

He referred to the testimony which dealt with the character of Mrs. Woodard as it had been brought in the trial. He pictured the woman who had been driven from her home by the man whom the state pictured as a perfect husband and father. He pointed out to the jury that Mrs. Woodard fired the fatal shot in the wrought up condition which the fear and dread of her husband had brought upon her.

L. C. Cook for the defense followed Mr. Cummins with a discussion of the law which covered the case. He mentioned the three possibilities which were open to the jury; verdict of guilty to the charge of first degree murder, accompanied with sentence of hanging or life imprisonment; second degree murder with sentence of at least ten years; or the possibility of a verdict of innocence. He read in detail the part of the court's instructions related to the shooting in self defense and that part which said that although they believed that Mr. Woodard associated with other women, that fact alone would not justify Mrs. Woodard's killing of her husband.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Woodard was reviewed by Mr. Cook with special reference to the habits of treatment by Mr. Woodard toward Mrs. Woodard, citing the incidents of the black eye and beating referred to in the trial as compared with a witness's testimony that Mr. Woodard was as good a man as ever lived in Maryville.

Mr. Cook continued his plea this afternoon until 2:45 o'clock. He attacked Mr. Blagg's insinuation that there was some one else in the house on the night of the shooting. He referred to Mr. McCaffrey's asking Sheriff Roach if he heard anyone in the bedroom and his answering that Mrs. Woodard was in there waking Maxine up.

Mr. Cook denied the statement made this morning by Mr. Blagg that the mother and father of the dead man were not called after the shooting. They were called and were in the office of Mr. McCaffrey the night after the shooting.

Mr. Cook's talk to the jury lasted two hours and thirty-five minutes.

Mr. Cook finished his plea by reminding the jury that self defense is founded upon the theory that the defendant thought that she was in danger. In this particular case the defendant thought that Woodard, when he got in the house, would do as he said he would about blowing her brains out, Mrs. Woodard believed what he had taught her to believe by his treatment and the terror which he had aroused in her by such treatment.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey opened the closing argument for the state by complimenting at length, the jury and the court. He spoke of the splendid attention given by the jury and complimented Judge Dawson on his fairness and courtesy.

In his argument, Mr. McCaffrey attacked the point brought up by the defense that Woodard made numerous trips to the basement with a revolver in his hand the night before the murder. He stated that the toilet in the Woodard home was in the basement and inferred that this was the reason that Woodard went down there.

He also attacked the defense by asking why Mrs. Woodard made two trips home the following day to prepare meals for her husband, whom she feared so much. He also attacked the coming of Mrs. Woodard to write a note to her husband to tell him that she would be home late and for him to leave the key to the door outside.

The statement made by Mrs. Woodard that at one time Woodard knocked her down and gave her a "black eye" was attacked vigorously by the Prosecutor who said that the statement was made by Mrs. Woodard alone and was corroborated by no one.

In his introduction, Mr. McCaffrey spoke of the sympathetic appeal to the jury made by Attorney Cook for the defense. He asked that if sympathy were to be taken into consideration, for the jury to gaze on the aged father who sat by his side, and the mother, with silvery hair, who sat behind her husband. They deserved some sympathy. Their son was shot down in cold blood without even the moment required to pray for forgiveness, if he had broken a moral law. However, Mr. McCaffrey said that it was not sympathy, but justice that the state asked.

The trial has attracted a great deal of attention. The courtroom has been crowded during nearly every session and there have been several women who have remained in the room during the noon recess. Many women were in attendance. The case started with qualifying the jury Monday and then the selection of the jury Wednesday morning.

The testimony started Wednesday. There were many witnesses for the state as well as a number for the defense. Mrs. Woodard, the defendant, was on the stand for over three hours. During the trial, Mrs. Woodard was very composed but took the greatest interest in every detail of the proceedings. She was accompanied by her little daughter, Maxine, as well as her sisters, Mrs. Bud Knox and Mrs. Guy Rounds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodard, the parents of Shubeal Woodard, were also in constant attendance. During the trial, Mrs. Woodard, the mother, cried several times. Their daughter accompanied her parents.

The jury hearing the case was composed of John Sturm, W. O. Denton, E. G. Holker, Fred Barrett, Virgil Spoonemore, Linwood Singleton, John Lowrance, John Masters, Frank Barrett, J. E. Hornbuckle, Sam DeVault, and Otis Lyle.

The jury was kept together and was quartered during the nights in the courthouse.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

MARYVILLE CHURCHES TO SPONSER COMMUNITY PROJECT.

SCHOOL TO START SOON

The School Will Be in Session at Least 24 Days—For Children 4 to 14 Years.

Maryville is to have a Community Daily Vacation Bible School this summer. This was the decision reached last evening at a meeting at the County Sunday School Association rooms, which was attended by the pastors and a lay representative of the Maryville churches and some of the officers of the County Association.

It was voted to put an executive committee in charge of this new community project, the committee to consist of the pastors and another representative from each of the five churches. Rev. S. P. Allison was elected as chairman of this committee. By Sunday all members will be appointed and work on curriculum and definite plans and the securing of workers will begin. It is hoped to be able to have an enrollment day some time next week, and to open the school about June 12. A standard Daily Vacation Bible School must be in session at least twenty-four days, which would mean the school would close about July 15. It is planned to work in close co-operation with the International Association of Daily Vacation Bible Schools, which has headquarters in New York. The school will consist of four departments and will enroll children from 4 years of age up to 13 and 14.

The history of the Daily Vacation Bible School began in Maryville last summer, when the Presbyterian church operated a school which enrolled 68 members coming from all the churches. At that time the Presbyterians said they hoped the result of the demonstration of Daily Vacation Bible School work, would mean a community school on a bigger scale than any individual church could operate.

Much interest was manifested last year, and many said they wished they had known what such a school was in order to have sent their children. This year the Presbyterians were about ready to announce a second session in that church, when it was discovered that the time was ripe for a federated school. Accordingly the meeting was called last night. Plans and projects and organization of the Presbyterians will be turned over to the community school, as a nucleus.

The daily program of the school will be, roughly: At 8:55 march in to music. At 9 begin the devotional, music and Bible memory work period. At about 9:25 games and health training period. Then thirty-five minutes of Bible study, followed by about fifty minutes of craft work, which leaves about fifteen minutes for a closing assembly. Adjournment is promptly at 11:30. Features of the assembly period, are object talks, missionary stories, habit talks, dramatization of Bible stories, etc.

The work done in the Bible study period alone is equal to seven months' Sunday School work, and with the definite religious instruction given the school does about as much work in five weeks as in a year in the Sunday School. The Bible memory work is one of the most valuable features. Last year the children in addition to learning many verses, and being able to tell where found, made a great hit by naming the books of the Bible backward as well as forward.

Last year the boys made many jointed animal toys in the craft period. There were sent to the Christian Home for orphans at Council Bluffs for Christmas. The girls did much sewing. This year it is planned to make the craft work for both boys and girls as far as possible the making of things that can be sent for Christmas to some children's home.

In the last ten years the number of children enrolled in Daily Vacation Bible Schools climbed from 27,000 to 270,000; the number of schools from 550 to 15,550, and the expense of operating the schools from $27,000 to $270,000.

DROWNING ACCIDENTS

Early summer fills the newspapers with many reports of drowning accidents. Many families are thrown into mourning, and a trail of sorrow is marked across the land. Young people can not be kept from the water, and they must learn how to use it safely. But the carelessness, inexperience, or fool hardiness of many of them create tragic events.

Drowning accidents occur largely in these classes of cases: First, boys who do not know how to swim, and go into the water without supervision; second, expert swimmers who get into deep water and are attacked with cramps; third, canoe accidents.

Parents should see that their children learn swimming under some competent instructor, or in charge of some good swimmer and every public swimming place should have competent life guards always within easy reach.

STYLE AND SUCCESS

It was an interesting note in the daily news, when the dispatches informed this country that J. P. Morgan, who is attending the international financial conference at Paris, came and went in an old taxicab that looked as if it were about ready to fall to pieces. Meanwhile the other delegates all used handsome automobiles.

A similar indifference to style is often manifested by the men of fame and fortune. Meanwhile the clerks of a bank or office often dress better than the heads of their corporations. They declare that the man who has "arrived" can do as he likes, but while he is only starting he must make a good appearance.

That is all right to a reasonable extent but is easily abused. The man who seems to be throwing around money does not impress people with the idea that he will be a good manager for other folk's interests.

The only way a lot of people ever become acquainted with anything is to bump into it or let it bump into them. A less formal introduction doesn't seem to make any impression.

If the republicans of Missouri don't get the man they want for a senatorial nominee, it won't be the fault of the statesmen. Eight of them are candidates, of whom St. Louis furnishes four and Kansas City two.

In the democratic race for United States Senator, the candidacy of Uncle Bob Young of St. Joseph must not be overlooked. Uncle Robert is a full fledged candidate because he says so and so does the Secretary of State. Robert I. Young is a well-to-do farmer of Buchanan county who has some ideas all his own and a penchant for running for office. He doesn't seem to care anything about winning nominations but finds ample satisfaction in making his biennial races. For some years he has been running for Congress in the fourth district and now has graduated into the senatorial class. He is a good citizen and entitled to all the fun he may get out of this diversion.

Attended Funeral of Mother.

RADIO COMPANY TO HAVE A TRANSMITTING SET

Also Purchases a Loud Speaker Which Is on the Order of a Magnavox—Buys Small Portable Radio Set.

The Radio Supply Company composed of Arthur Garrett, William Worland, Ellis Meek and Wilfred White, has made extensive preparations for enlarging the scope of its activities. Yesterday, Garrett, Worland and White went to Kansas City and while there they purchased a transmitting set which will arrive in Maryville within the next thirty days. They also bought a Western Electric Loud Speaker. This instrument is on the order of a magnavox and it has a three stage amplifier. The loud speaker has arrived in Maryville and has been attached. This afternoon if it is possible to "catch" some good stuf fover the radio the loud speaking attachment will be placed in the front window of Dr. H. S. Rowlett's office and the people who are within a radius of several blocks will be able to hear whatever is going on.

In Kansas City Garrett also purchased a small portable radio receiving set which he intends to attach onto his automobile for advertising purposes. It will then be possible to listen in on concerts and the like while taking a ride.

As soon as the transmitting apparatus arrives, all kinds of things will be broadcasted to adjoining towns and cities. Garrett said today that he planned to connect with one of the local band concerts and if possible to have the well known Maryville quartet sing for the benefit of other stations. Business men will be asked to make short speeches and if possible some connection will be made between the Chamber of Commerce and other towns.

Fifty Years Ago

(From the files of the Nodaway Democrat June 6, 1872.)

Following is a report on the Democratic convention, held June 1:

On motion of C. A. Anthony, Esq., Dr. P. H. Talbott was elected to the state convention.

On motion of C. C. Graham, Lafe Dawson, Esq., was also elected a delegate.

Messrs. Marteny Skidmore and Samuel F. Guthrie were elected alternates.

Dr. Talbott was called on for a speech. The doctor gracefully responded in a brief but able discussion as to the proper course for the democrats to pursue in the approaching campaign.

Pickens and Marcell at Gaynor Yesterday and at Harmony Today.

George A. Pickens and Ralph Marcell had a full day today making pictures for the farm film of the different farm activities of Nodaway county. They were in Gaynor yesterday picturing the second annual sale of pure bred cattle, and stopped at the Jake Chesnut farm on their return to make a picture of the shocking of alfalfa. A pasture scene was taken on the farm of Albert Dowden.

Today pictures were made of cultivating alfalfa with a disc and spring tooth harrow and putting it in the barn on the farm of Elmer Fraser.

This morning they went to Harmony to take a mowing scene of a field of alfalfa owned by Bert McKee, which is a fine one and which has been grown on soil treated with lime.

A panoramic view of One Hundred and Two valley will be taken from Lee Hill, which will show the corn and wheat fields of this vicinity. Other scenes of the cultivation of alfalfa will be made on the farm of H. F. Leet.

A picture of blue grass heading will be made in the pastures on the farm of J. W. and George Herren which was recently purchased from U. S. Wright.

GAYNOR VICINITY A PURE BRED LIVE STOCK SECTION

A man prominent in farm and stock circles in the county remarked today that the farmers in the vicinity of Gaynor, where the pure bred live stock sale was held yesterday, have, in his opinion, more pure bred stock than those in any section of the county. He said that he believed that it would be but a short time until the greater majority of the farmers in that section would have their places stocked in part at least with pure bred animals.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Moody of Maryville announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Luta, to Mr. Edward C. Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Barker of Port Jefferson, Long Island, N. Y. The marriage was solemnized this morning at a nuptial high mass at 9 o'clock at the Infant Jesus Church in Port Jefferson, the Rev. Father Roex, pastor, officiating. The altar was decorated with palms, ferns and spring flowers. The bride wore a gown of gray canton crepe with hat and slippers to match, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Maude Barker, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, wore a coral radium dress with hat to correspond, and she carried an arm bouquet of roses. Mr. Hugh Arthur of Huntington, Long Island, served as best man for Mr. Barker. A breakfast for the bridal party and relatives followed the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Barker left for a motor trip through the New England States, their itinerary including Bridgeport, Conn., Providence, R. BOYS TO HELP IN HEALTH SURVEY

THE CITY WATER SAFE

Dr. Fryer Says it is the One Supply on Which One May Absolutely Rely

The health survey for Maryville will be started next week with the assistance of a number of boys of town, who were formerly members of the Maryville boy scout organization and who have had some experience in house to house canvass work, according to Dr. Claude P. Fryer, head of the Nodaway County Health Department. The plan is to get a list of all the houses in Maryville where students in the State Teachers College are kept. From this list the boys know what houses to visit. Only the houses where students are kept are to be canvassed, as the survey is especially for the purpose of making conditions safe for the students.

Some interest in the survey is already being manifested by the people of Maryville. The department has received several requests in the past few days that tests be made of the water of wells from which families are getting their supply.

When the boys go to a home they will ask that a little blank regarding the water and sanitary conditions about the place be filled out. If the householder cares to have it done the department will take a sample of water of any well on the premises and have it tested, but if no such request is made the water will not be tested, unless some one about the place becomes ill with typhoid fever.

Dr. Fryer says that if one would be sure that he is using water that is absolutely safe he should use the water from the city mains. This has been tested and will be tested from time to time and there is no chance of its being polluted without the authorities knowing it. It is put through a treatment at the plant that kills all injurious bacteria. He says one cannot be sure that any well in town is safe, unless he has had it tested and knows it to be all right. In a place where the population is as thick as it is in Maryville any well is likely to become polluted. He points out that fourteen cases of typhoid fever were traced in Maryville last summer to one well. This well has since been abandoned and filled up.

"Personally," says Dr. Fryer, "I never take a drink of water from any well. I drink the water from the city mains for I know that it is all right. When I am out of town I do not drink."

The water, ice and milk are the three distinct sources from which the pollution from typhoid fever is likely to come, according to Dr. Fryer. When a case of typhoid fever comes it is to these three sources that he looks. He says that it is possible for infection to come from milk which is all right in itself but which becomes infected from the fact that the utensils are washed in water that is infected.

BARBER LAND WILL BE SOLD HERE JUNE 17

Bankruptcy Court Dissolves Temporary Writ of Injunction—W. C. Pierce Named as Trustee.

At the first meeting of creditors of John W. Barber of near Skidmore in St. Joseph yesterday, W. C. Pierce of Maryville was appointed trustee in bankruptcy. Neither Mr. Pierce nor the Farmers Trust Company are a creditor but the creditors were wanting a trustee familiar with land values.

John S. Boyer, referee in bankruptcy, dissolved the temporary writ of injunction to hold up the sale of the Barber tract of land which had been issued by him on May 20. The land had been advertised for sale on May 20, but the sale was held up owing to the temporary writ.

Since the injunction has been dissolved, the Barber tract of land comprising 2,080 acres of land near Skidmore will be sold on Saturday, June 17, to satisfy a second mortgage of $123,054.66 with about $10,000 interest subject to a first mortgage of about $175,000 with interest. It is said the first and second mortgages and interest amount to about $324,000 or over $150 an acre.

TO HAVE SPECIAL POLICE OFFICER IN COLLEGE PARK

Well Has Been Bored for the Use of the Occupants of the Summer Cottages.

W. A. Blagg, president of the board of regents at the State Teachers College, announced this morning that in the near future the College Park would be patroled by a special policeman. This will be for the protection of the tenants of the summer cottages and also to keep some of the "mashers" from abusing park privileges.

The authorities at the State Teachers College have had a well bored in the College Park for the use of the tenants of the twelve summer cottages, owned by the college and rented out to students and teachers. This well will furnish clear cool water at all times and it will make it possible for the tenants to have other water than that of the One Hundred and Two River.

K.P.'S HONOR TWO MARYVILLE BOYS

MAPEL PRESIDENT AND BARRY SECRETARY OF DISTRICT

NEXT MEETING HERE

Fifteen Lodges Were Represented at St. Joseph Yesterday—Local Report Good

Maryville was distinctly honored at the semi-annual meeting of the First Pythian district, Knights of Pythias, which was held in St. Joseph yesterday. It was decided to hold the next convention of the lodges of this district in Maryville. Also two members of the local lodge were elected to offices in the district. William Mapel was made president and Raymond Barry was elected to the office of Secretary. The meeting in Maryville will be held sometime in October.

The other officers as elected were Eric Holmes, vice-president, and George McGee, treasurer. Mr. Holmes is from the Watson lodge and Mr. McGee, who has been treasurer for the past year is from St. Joseph.

The convention yesterday in St. Joseph was a decided success. The four highest of the national officers of the Knights of Pythias were present and all made short talks. These officers were A. L. Reeves of Jefferson City, grand chancellor; Edwin Ettinger of St. Louis, grand keeper of records and seal; W. F. Drummond of Independence, deputy grand chancellor and W. E. Reese of St. Joseph, grand vice chancellor. Fred D. Clark who was president of the association for the past year, was also present. He is special deputy grand chancellor.

About fifteen lodges were represented at the meeting. Four of the members of the Tancred Lodge, No. 84, of Maryville were at the meeting. They were William Mapel, Raymond Barry, Harold O'Banion, and Ora McPherron.

The business of the convention was completed yesterday afternoon and last night the first degree of the Knights of Pythias was conferred on a class by the State Instituting team.

When the reports of the different lodges were read it was found that the report of the Maryville lodge was as good if not better than that of any other lodge present. Many compliments were passed and the results of the election of officers and the place decided on for the next convention show how good the impression of the local chapter was.

At the regular meeting of the local lodge Monday night, the delegates report will be read and plans will be laid toward the holding of the convention.

CLOSING 8TH YEAR OF BUSINESS HERE

HARVEY L. HAINES OPENED STORE JUNE 6, 1914

HAS GROWING BUSINESS

Stock Now Ten Times the Original—Is an Advertiser—Annual Sale Starts Today

On a certain evening in March, 1914 a man sat in the lobby of the Baltimore Hotel in Kansas City. He had just closed business relations in a Kansas town and was looking for a good location in which to start a dry goods store. He had been a Missouri boy, born and reared at Bigelow, and he wished to make his future home and establish his future business in his native state. A traveling salesman of his acquaintance dropped in, sat down beside him and the two became engaged in conversation. The traveling salesman told the man of Maryville and the opportunities he believed existed here.

The business man was none other than Harvey L. Haines, owner of the Harvey L. Haines store. Mr. Haines was interested in what his friend told him and decided to come the following day to Maryville to look the ground over. He was convinced that it was just the place he wanted to be and accordingly rented a part of the storeroom that his business now occupies. Nearly three months later he had a small stock of goods in the building and opened for business June 6, 1914, with four clerks, besides himself. He believed in advertising and delivering the goods as he advertised them and he believed in paying the wholesalers cash for their goods and selling them to the consumer the same way. The business grew. Mr. Haines increased his stock until it now is ten times what it was originally. The force of clerks became inadequate and he hired more. The storeroom became too small and an addition was built on the rear. Still more room was needed and balconies were built on either side of the room. Today fourteen clerks are hired regularly and Mr. Haines will open within two weeks a new department on the second floor of the building to which a wide easy stairway will lead and which will be a real modern up to date ready to wear department. It will be equipped with the best fixtures that money can buy. The floors will be covered with the most expensive rugs and all the goods will be under glass. There will also be a Ladies' rest room.

Mr. Haines has been working at the dry goods business since he was a small boy but says that he does not understand the business yet. He says that there is so much to know about the business that it is practically impossible for one to really feel that he knows much about it. Mr. Haines has been in the business for himself since 1909.

When asked to what it was that he attributed his success in business Mr. Haines said:

"I attribute such success as I have had to the fact that I have advertised and that I produced the goods as I advertised them. I started in a small way and enlarged my business as there was call for it. I paid cash for my goods and I sold them for cash. I clear my books each week so that when the store opens on Monday I do not owe a dollar to any one in the world. I have kept my business clear from any hold of bankers or wholesalers. When I look in the glass all the directors of my business are in session for I own every dollar of the concern myself."

It has been Mr. Haines' custom to hold each year an anniversary sale to commemorate the opening of his business in Maryville. The eighth annual sale was started this morning at 9 o'clock with twenty-four clerks behind the counters and will continue throughout next week. It bids fair to be one of the biggest and best that Mr. Haines has ever held.

ENROLLMENT IS AROUND 900 MARK

792 LISTED AT OFFICE OF W. A. RICKENBRODE

100 IN CONSERVATORY

School Shows Remarkable Growth in Past Ten Years—is Four Times Larger

The enrollment at the State Teachers College is today in the neighborhood of 900. Seven hundred and ninety-two are enrolled at the office of W. A. Rickenbrode and in addition to this it is said that the Conservatory of Music has approximately 100 students, the official enrollment of which has not as yet been turned in. Of the 792, thirty-eight are ex-service men taking vocational training and one is a student who has taken her B. S. in Education. This student is Mrs. A. J. Cauffield.

The number of students registered is a record. The largest summer enrollment in the history of the school was in the summer of 1916 when there was an enrollment of 703.

The enrollment for the summers since 1910 follows:

1910—241
1911—369
1912—474
1913—515
1914—529
1915—540
1916—703
1917—624
1918—540
1919—478
1920—479
1921—642
1921—642

Since 1910 the enrollment has nearly quadrupled. It has grown from 241 to more than nine hundred. The two years when the enrollment showed its least change were in 1919 and 1920. In 1919 the number of students was 478 and in 1920 the number had increased one person.

Students are expected to arrive for this term as late as the latter part of next week.

WOODARD MURDER CASE WENT TO THE JURY AT 4:20 THIS AFTERNOON

M'CAFFREY FINISHED THE CLOSING ARGUMENT AT THAT TIME

WHAT WILL VERDICT BE?

Expressions Heard Ranged from Conviction of 10 Years to Acquittal —Some Say Hung Jury

At 4:20 this afternoon, the Woodard murder case went to the jury after Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey for the state had made the closing argument. Mr. McCaffrey talked about one hour and twenty minutes.

What will be the verdict of the jury? There were some expressions that the jury may bring in a verdict of ten years, the least punishment, if the woman is convicted. Many others say the jury will acquit Mrs. Woodard. There are some who expressed the belief the jury will be unable to agree.

After the instructions were read to the jury by Judge Dawson yesterday afternoon, Attorney W. A. Blagg for the state made the opening argument. The instructions included first degree murder or murder in the second degree, the least sentence to be ten years or acquittal.

Mr. Blagg begun his talk to the jury at 4:20 o'clock and continued until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon when court adjourned until 8:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Blagg had not concluded his talk when the court adjourned last evening and was the first speaker this morning. He closed his argument at 9:55 this morning after talking about three hours and five minutes.

Mr. Blagg pointed out how the court and the officials worked under oath, reviewed the qualifications for a juryman. Later he reviewed the instructions which the court gave the jury. He especially emphasized the part which referred to the probability or the improbability of the witnesses statements when he reviewed parts of the testimony which has been given in the trial.

In referring to the night of the shooting when Mrs. Woodard was home, he said, that in his mind the woman then formed a deliberate purpose of taking the life of Mr. Woodard when he came home that night. He attacked the testimony of Maxine Woodard, the little daughter.

T. A. Cummins for the defense began his plea to the jury at 10:05. He mentioned the responsibility he felt as attorney for the defense and said he thought when all of the evidence had been presented by them, then the burden rested upon the shoulders of the jury.

He referred to the testimony which dealt with the character of Mrs. Woodard as it had been brought in the trial. He pictured the woman who had been driven from her home by the man whom the state pictured as a perfect husband and father. He pointed out to the jury that Mrs. Woodard fired the fatal shot in the wrought up condition which the fear and dread of her husband had brought upon her.

L. C. Cook for the defense followed Mr. Cummins with a discussion of the law which covered the case. He mentioned the three possibilities which were open to the jury; verdict of guilty to the charge of first degree murder, accompanied with sentence of hanging or life imprisonment; second degree murder with sentence of at least ten years; or the possibility of a verdict of innocence. He read in detail the part of the court's instructions related to the shooting in self defense and that part which said that although they believed that Mr. Woodard associated with other women, that fact alone would not justify Mrs. Woodard's killing of her husband.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Woodard was reviewed by Mr. Cook with special reference to the habits of treatment by Mr. Woodard toward Mrs. Woodard, citing the incidents of the black eye and beating referred to in the trial as compared with a witness's testimony that Mr. Woodard was as good a man as ever lived in Maryville.

Mr. Cook continued his plea this afternoon until 2:45 o'clock. He attacked Mr. Blagg's insinuation that there was some one else in the house on the night of the shooting. He referred to Mr. McCaffrey's asking Sheriff Roach if he heard anyone in the bedroom and his answering that Mrs. Woodard was in there waking Maxine up.

Mr. Cook denied the statement made this morning by Mr. Blagg that the mother and father of the dead man were not called after the shooting They were called and were in the office of Mr. McCaffrey the night after the shooting.

Mr. Cook's talk to the jury lasted two hours and thirty-five minutes.

Mr. Cook finished his plea by reminding the jury that self defense is founded upon the theory that the defendant thought that she was in danger. In this particular case the defendant thought that Woodard, when he got in the house, would do as he said he would about blowing her brains out, Mrs. Woodard believed what he had taught her to believe by his treatment and the terror which he had aroused in her by such treatment.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey opened the closing argument for the state by complimenting at length, the jury and the court. He spoke of the splendid attention given by the jury and complimented Judge Dawson on his fairness and courtesy.

In his argument, Mr. McCaffrey attacked the point brought up by the defense that Woodard made numerous trips to the basement with a revolver in his hand the night before the murder. He stated that the toilet in the Woodard home was in the basement and inferred that this was the reason that Woodard went down there.

He also attacked the defense by asking why Mrs. Woodard made two trips home the following day to prepare meals for her husband, whom she feared so much. He also attacked the coming of Mrs. Woodard to write a note to her husband to tell him that she would be home late and for him to leave the key to the door outside.

The statement made by Mrs. Woodard that at one time Woodard knocked her down and gave her a "black eye" was attacked vigorously by the Prosecutor who said that the statement was made by Mrs. Woodard alone and was corroborated by no one.

In his introduction, Mr. McCaffrey spoke of the sympathetic appeal to the jury made by Attorney Cook for the defense. He asked that if sympathy were to be taken into consideration, for the jury to gaze on the aged father who sat by his side, and the mother, with silvery hair, who sat behind her husband. They deserved some sympathy. Their son was shot down in cold blood without even the moment required to pray for forgiveness, if he had broken a moral law. However, Mr. McCaffrey said that it was not sympathy, but justice that the state asked.

The trial has attracted a great deal of attention. The courtroom has been crowded during nearly every session and there have been several women who have remained in the room during the noon recess. Many women were in attendance. The case started with qualifying the jury Monday and then the selection of the jury Wednesday morning.

The testimony started Wednesday. There were many witnesses for the state as well as a number for the defense. Mrs. Woodard, the defendant, was on the stand for over three hours. During the trial, Mrs. Woodard was very composed but took the greatest interest in every detail of the proceedings. She was accompanied by her little daughter, Maxine, as well as her sisters, Mrs. Bud Knox and Mrs. Guy Rounds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodard, the parents of Shubeal Woodard, were also in constant attendance. During the trial, Mrs. Woodard, the mother, cried several times. Their daughter accompanied her parents.

The jury hearing the case was composed of John Sturm, W. O. Denton, E. G. Holker, Fred Barrett, Virgil Spoonemore, Linwood Singleton, John Lowrance, John Masters, Frank Barrett, J. E. Hornbuckle, Sam DeVault, and Otis Lyle.

The jury was kept together and was quartered during the nights in the courthouse.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

MARYVILLE CHURCHES TO SPONSER COMMUNITY PROJECT.

SCHOOL TO START SOON

The School Will Be in Session at Least 24 Days—For Children 4 to 14 Years.

Maryville is to have a Community Daily Vacation Bible School this summer. This was the decision reached last evening at a meeting at the County Sunday School Association rooms, which was attended by the pastors and a lay representative of the Maryville churches and some of the officers of the County Association.

It was voted to put an executive committee in charge of this new community project, the committee to consist of the pastors and another representative from each of the five churches. Rev. S. P. Allison was elected as chairman of this committee. By Sunday all members will be appointed and work on curriculum and definite plans and the securing of workers will begin. It is hoped to be able to have an enrollment day some time next week, and to open the school about June 12. A standard Daily Vacation Bible School must be in session at least twenty-four days, which would mean the school would close about July 15. It is planned to work in close co-operation with the International Association of Daily Vacation Bible Schools, which has headquarters in New York. The school will consist of four departments and will enroll children from 4 years of age up to 13 and 14.

The history of the Daily Vacation Bible School began in Maryville last summer, when the Presbyterian church operated a school which enrolled 68 members coming from all the churches. At that time the Presbyterians said they hoped the result of the demonstration of Daily Vacation Bible School work, would mean a community school on a bigger scale than any individual church could operate.

Much interest was manifested last year, and many said they wished they had known what such a school was in order to have sent their children. This year the Presbyterians were about ready to announce a second session in that church, when it was discovered that the time was ripe for a federated school. Accordingly the meeting was called last night. Plans and projects and organization of the Presbyterians will be turned over to the community school, as a nucleus.

The daily program of the school will be, roughly: At 8:55 march in to music. At 9 begin the devotional, music and Bible memory work period. At about 9:25 games and health training period. Then thirty-five minutes of Bible study, followed by about fifty minutes of craft work, which leaves about fifteen minutes for a closing assembly. Adjournment is promptly at 11:30. Features of the assembly period, are object talks, missionary stories, habit talks, dramatization of Bible stories, etc.

The work done in the Bible study period alone is equal to seven months' Sunday School work, and with the definite religious instruction given the school does about as much work in five weeks as in a year in the Sunday School. The Bible memory work is one of the most valuable features. Last year the children in addition to learning many verses, and being able to tell where found, made a great hit by naming the books of the Bible backward as well as forward.

Last year the boys made many jointed animal toys in the craft period. There were sent to the Christian Home for orphans at Council Bluffs for Christmas. The girls did much sewing. This year it is planned to make the craft work for both boys and girls as far as possible the making of things that can be sent for Christmas to some children's home.

In the last ten years the number of children enrolled in Daily Vacation Bible Schools climbed from 27,000 to 270,000; the number of schools from 550 to 15,550, and the expense of operating the schools from $27,000 to $270,000.

DROWNING ACCIDENTS

Early summer fills the newspapers with many reports of drowning accidents. Many families are thrown into mourning, and a trail of sorrow is marked across the land. Young people can not be kept from the water, and they must learn how to use it safely. But the carelessness, inexperience, or fool hardiness of many of them create tragic events.

Drowning accidents occur largely in these classes of cases: First, boys who do not know how to swim, and go into the water without supervision; second, expert swimmers who get into deep water and are attacked with cramps; third, canoe accidents.

Parents should see that their children learn swimming under some competent instructor, or in charge of some good swimmer and every public swimming place should have competent life guards always within easy reach.

STYLE AND SUCCESS

It was an interesting note in the daily news, when the dispatches informed this country that J. P. Morgan, who is attending the international financial conference at Paris, came and went in an old taxicab that looked as if it were about ready to fall to pieces. Meanwhile the other delegates all used handsome automobiles.

A similar indifference to style is often manifested by the men of fame and fortune. Meanwhile the clerks of a bank or office often dress better than the heads of their corporations. They declare that the man who has "arrived" can do as he likes, but while he is only starting he must make a good appearance.

That is all right to a reasonable extent but is easily abused. The man who seems to be throwing around money does not impress people with the idea that he will be a good manager for other folk's interests.

When jazz music dies, there is no question about where it will go.

Before Russia gets financial succor, it looks like she will have to find the sucker.

In the winter is it carry out the ashes and in summer it is cut the weeds. Take your choice.

If "women are slaves to fashion," fahsion has made their burdens about as light as the law will permit.

About the only thing a man runs around his home now is the lawn mower or the washing machine.

The way Babe Ruth has been throwing dirt lately, he must be getting ready to quit baseball and go into politics.

The only way a lot of people ever become acquainted with anything is to bump into it or let it bump into them. A less formal introduction doesn't seem to make any impression.

If the republicans of Missouri don't get the man they want for a senatorial nominee, it won't be the fault of the statesmen. Eight of them are candidates, of whom St. Louis furnishes four and Kansas City two.

In the democratic race for United States Senator, the candidacy of Uncle Bob Young of St. Joseph must not be overlooked. Uncle Robert is a full fledged candidate because he says so and so does the Secretary of State. Robert I. Young is a well-to-do farmer of Buchanan county who has some ideas all his own and a penchant for running for office. He doesn't seem to care anything about winning nominations but finds ample satisfaction in making his biennial races. For some years he has been running for Congress in the fourth district and now has graduated into the senatorial class. He is a good citizen and entitled to all the fun he may get out of this diversion.

Attended Funeral of Mother.

RADIO COMPANY TO HAVE A TRANSMITTING SET

Also Purchases a Loud Speaker Which Is on the Order of a Magnavox—Buys Small Portable Radio Set.

The Radio Supply Company composed of Arthur Garrett, William Worland, Ellis Meek and Wilfred White, has made extensive preparations for enlarging the scope of its activities. Yesterday, Garrett, Worland and White went to Kansas City and while there they purchased a transmitting set which will arrive in Maryville within the next thirty days. They also bought a Western Electric Loud Speaker. This instrument is on the order of a magnavox and it has a three stage amplifier. The loud speaker has arrived in Maryville and has been attached. This afternoon if it is possible to "catch" some good stuf fover the radio the loud speaking attachment will be placed in the front window of Dr. H. S. Rowlett's office and the people who are within a radius of several blocks will be able to hear whatever is going on.

In Kansas City Garrett also purchased a small portable radio receiving set which he intends to attach onto his automobile for advertising purposes. It will then be possible to listen in on concerts and the like while taking a ride.

As soon as the transmitting apparatus arrives, all kinds of things will be broadcasted to adjoining towns and cities. Garrett said today that he planned to connect with one of the local band concerts and if possible to have the well known Maryville quartet sing for the benefit of other stations. Business men will be asked to make short speeches and if possible some connection will be made between the Chamber of Commerce and other towns.

MAKING PICTURES OF FIELDS OF ALFALFA IN COUNTY

Pickens and Marcell at Gaynor Yesterday and at Harmony Today.

George A. Pickens and Ralph Marcell had a full day today making pictures for the farm film of the different farm activities of Nodaway county. They were in Gaynor yesterday picturing the second annual sale of pure bred cattle, and stopped at the Jake Chesnut farm on their return to make a picture of the shocking of alfalfa. A pasture scene was taken on the farm of Albert Dowden.

Today pictures were made of cultivating alfalfa with a disc and spring tooth harrow and putting it in the barn on the farm of Elmer Fraser.

This morning they went to Harmony to take a mowing scene of a field of alfalfa owned by Bert McKee, which is a fine one and which has been grown on soil treated with lime.

A panoramic view of One Hundred and Two valley will be taken from Lee Hill, which will show the corn and wheat fields of this vicinity. Other scenes of the cultivation of alfalfa will be made on the farm of H. F. Leet.

A picture of blue grass heading will be made in the pastures on the farm of J. W. and George Herren which was recently purchased from U. S. Wright.

Miss Fern Campbell of Barnard, who is attending the State Teachers College went home today to spend the week-end.
